To Our Customers:

Thank you for entrusting The Pest Doctor with the health and wellbeing of your home and business. As we work together as a community and nation to better understand and mitigate the spread of the novel Coronavirus, we are all being asked to adhere to new guidelines and to do our best to practice social distancing.

Please know that as protectors of public health, food and property, we take our role in safeguarding your quality of life very seriously. Pest control professionals are responsible for protecting against rodents, insects, arachnids and other animals that can damage property and threaten people’s health through the spread of disease and bacteria, in addition to inflicting painful bites and stings. Our critical services extend into people’s homes and businesses, as well as major commercial operations such as healthcare facilities, food processing facilities and more.

We strongly encourage everyone to follow the advice set forth by the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and our government leaders. As an organization, we are taking additional measures to ensure we provide the best level of protection for both our customers and our employees. For more information on the steps we’re taking, please see the CDC’s guidance for businesses which can be found here.

This letter also serves to inform you that as of March 23, 2020, The Pest Doctor will be operating our normal, uninterrrupted service.

If you have questions about your routine service or are experiencing a pest control problem please call (734) 331-5825 or (810) 344-4495, or email us at jeff@thepestdoctor.net. We will do our best to provide you with the level of service and satisfaction you’ve come to expect from The Pest Doctor.

Thank you again for your continued trust and we wish you safety, health and peace during this difficult and unprecedented time. We will all get through this together.

Sincerely,

Jeff Granger
